Foreword

Justice N.K. Jain had prepared some lectures on different topics relating to law and delivered at various functions including Judicial Academy at Madras High Court and Karnataka High Court while he was Chief Justice of respective High Court between January 1999 to 2004.

My colleagues and friends has promoted me to get those lectures published in the form of a small booklet, not for sale, which will enable public at large to know about the legal issues involved on subject. In this way, in addition to legal awareness, this would also help the members of legal fraternity.

With the consent of Justice N.K. Jain, Chairperson, Rajasthan State Human Rights Commission, Jaipur. In continuation of my earlier efforts of releasing his lectures, now I am releasing the lectures viz. Gender Justice in Employment and in Profession, Law of Precedents in small booklets. This exercise is to perpetuate the memory of my beloved grand father late Justice J.P. Jain, who died as a sitting Judge of Rajasthan High Court, Jodhpur on 17.9.1975 at Jodhpur. I hope that it will widen the horizons of the law students, young and budding lawyers, judicial officers and officials who are discharging their duties in the administration of Justice.

Message

Shri Gaurav Jain, promising advocate belonging to the illustrious family of the judges is compiling and publishing the articles written and speeches delivered by his father Justice N.K. Jain who adorned the High Court of Madras and Karnataka as Chief Justice and at present Chairperson, State Human Rights Commission, Rajasthan.

The Articles are being published to make eternal the memory of his grandfather Hon'ble Justice J.P. Jain, a great jurist, person of robust common sense with a flowery and facile pen, whose judgments are and will always adorn the library of Advocates, High Court's and all those who want to understand the intricate problems of law in simple lucid language. Above all he was a great human being with humility and compassion.

The articles written, speeches delivered from time to time by Justice Jain in this impressive publication will give insight to the students, advocates and all those who want to be well informed in this global age regarding changing scenario of law.

I appreciate the endeavour of Mr. Gaurav Jain, Advocate and hope he will come forward with more publications and will give the people an opportunity to share the thoughts of his illustrious father.

(MOHAN LALL SHRIMAL)
