PREFACE

The most important aspect of legal services is to impart knowledge and information to the public about the rights conferred under the provisions of law and the remedies available for redressal of grievances. Unless, one becomes aware of his rights conferred on him by the Constitution as well as other enactments, one cannot fight for his rights. In this context, legal literacy-legal awareness programme assumes importance. In that direction, the Tamil Nadu State Legal Services Authority is releasing booklets on various enactments. The booklets also contain format for seeking legal aid.

This booklet is on "Protection of Civil Rights Act, 1955". Untouchability is a social menace. Every one must contribute his mite to remove the religious and social disabilities arising out of untouchability. I am sure that this book will certainly motivate the public to remove the social evil from the face of this earth.
